How risky is it?

The value of the Fund can go down as well as up. You could lose money.

One way to gauge risk is to look at how much a fund's returns change over time. This is called "volatility".

In general, funds with higher volatility will have returns that change more over time. They typically have a greater chance of losing money and may have a greater chance of higher returns. Funds with lower volatility tend to have returns that change less over time. They typically have lower returns and may have a lower chance of losing money.

Risk Rating

NEI Investments has rated the volatility of this Fund as low.

Because this is a new fund, the risk rating is only an estimate by NEI Investments. Generally, the rating is based on how much the Fund's returns have changed from year to year. It doesn't tell you how volatile the Fund will be in the future. The rating can change over time. A fund with a low risk rating can still lose money.

For more information about the risk rating and specific risks that can affect the Fund's returns, see the "What are the risks of investing in a mutual fund?" section of the Fund's simplified prospectus.

No guarantees

Like most mutual funds this Fund doesn't have any guarantees. You may not get back the amount of money you invest.

How has the fund performed?

This section tells you how Series F units of the Fund have performed since its inception. Returns are after expenses have been deducted. These expenses reduce the series' returns.

Returns of Series PF units would be similar to Series F units, but would vary as a result of the difference in the combined management and administration fees compared to Series F as set out in the Fee Decrease Table under "Fund Expenses".

A word about tax

In general, you'll have to pay income tax on any money you make on a fund. How much you pay depends on the tax laws where you live and whether or not you hold the Fund in a registered plan, such as a Registered Retirement Savings Plan or a Tax-Free Savings Account.

Keep in mind that if you hold your fund in a non-registered account, fund distributions are included in your taxable income, whether you get them in cash or have them reinvested.

How much does it cost?

The following tables show the fees and expenses you could pay to buy, own and sell Series F and PF units of the Fund. The fees and expenses - including any commissions - can vary among series of a fund and among funds. Higher commissions can influence representatives to recommend one investment over another. You should ask about other funds and investments that may be suitable for you at a lower cost.

Under NEI Investments' Preferred Pricing Program, in addition to Series F units, we offer Series PF units that have lower combined management and administration fees compared to Series F units. Your account will be monitored after every transaction and your Series F units will be converted into Series PF units, which have lower combined management and administration fees than Series F units, if following the transaction you have met the minimum investment threshold for such series. Manager initiated conversions from Series F units to Series PF units will also occur on the last business day of each month if positive market movement has caused the value of your investment to reach the minimum investment threshold. If you no longer meet the requirements to be eligible for Series PF units due to redemptions, we will convert your Series PF units back into Series F units, which have higher combined management and administration fees. At no point under the Preferred Pricing Program will you pay higher combined management and administration fees than those charged to Series A units due to a manager initiated conversion. See the fee decrease table under "Fund expenses" below and "Fees and Expenses" in the Fund's simplified prospectus. Speak to your representative for eligibility requirements for the Preferred Pricing Program, its availability with your representative's firm and other details.

1. Sales charges

Series F units and Series PF units are only available if your representative's firm has entered into a Series F Distribution Agreement with us. No direct sales commissions or redemption charges are payable by you to us on the purchase or sale of Series F units or Series PF units.

2. Fund expenses

You don't pay these expenses directly. They affect you because they reduce the series' return. The Fund's expenses are made up of the management fee, fixed administration fee, any operating expenses that are not covered by the fixed administration fee and trading costs. The Series F annual management fee is 0.45% of the series' value. The Series F fixed annual administration fee is 0.15% of the series' value. Because this series is new, its operating expenses and trading costs are not yet available.

Series F has higher combined management and administration fees than Series PF. This information is not available for Series PF because this series is new.

Preferred Pricing Program – Fee Decrease Table

The combined management and administration fee decrease between Series F and Series PF is set out in the table below:

Investment Thresholds	Series	Combined management and administration fee decrease (from Series F) (%)
