Management Discussion of Performance

Results of Operations

The NEI Conservative Yield Portfolio's Series A units returned 4.9% for the six-month period ended March 31, 2023 compared with a return of 6.1% for the benchmark explained below.

Unlike the benchmark return, the Portfolio's returns are after the deduction of fees and expenses paid by the Portfolio. Performance differences between series of units are mainly attributable to management fees charged to each series. Refer to the Past Performance section for the details of returns by series.

The blended benchmark is composed of 75% Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Index (C$ hedged), 18% MSCI ACWI NR Index (C$) and 7% S&P/TSX Composite TR Index.

The Portfolio's net asset value decreased by 4.95% during the period, from $167,379,367 as at September 30, 2022 to $159,090,177 as at March 31, 2023. This change in net assets is attributed to net unitholder activity of -$16,541,730 and $8,252,540 to investment operations, including market appreciation (depreciation), income and expenses.

Market Overview

In the 6-month period ending March 31, 2023, central banks across the globe stayed hawkish and continued with their aggressive monetary tightening throughout the period in their effort to tame inflation. The US Federal Reserve (Fed) raised its key policy rate by 1.75% in the past six months to 5.00%. Bank of Canada (BoC) raised its policy rate by 1.25% in the past six months to 4.50% before taking a pause to assess the impact of its hiking cycle on the Canadian economy. While inflation has started to recede in North America, the economic backdrop continued to deteriorate with elevated recession concerns and reduced estimates on economic growth.

Global markets posted strong returns with higher than usual volatility over this period despite the risk-off sentiment and the uncertain backdrop. Investors reacted positively to China's decision to ease its zero covid policy and a warmer-than-usual winter weather, triggering more positive investor sentiment that perhaps the risk of recession would fall. For the 6-month period, global equities measured by MSCI All Country World Index returned 16.0%, led by MSCI Europe Index which returned 30.0%, followed by S&P 500 Index in the US which returned 13.4%, and Canada's S&P TSX Index which returned 10.4%.

The fixed income markets also rebounded as bond yields plummeted in March to reflect the market's expectation that central banks may have to ease monetary policies by cutting rates soon in response to economies falling into recession. The sovereign bond yield curve has experienced significant volatility both on the long and short end, with the 2-yr bond yield hitting a high of 5.07% before ending the period at around the same level six months ago at 4.12%. The 10-yr bond yield also had high volatility but ended the period lower at 3.45%. The yield curve inversion, which began in July of last year between the 2-year and 10-year yields, continue to indicate elevated recession risk. Global bonds returned 3.7% and the Canadian fixed income index also rose by 3.3% in this period. On the corporate credit side, Canadian corporate credits index was up by 3.80% while U.S high yields bonds index rose by 7.8%.

Factors That Have Affected Performance

For the 6-month period, asset allocation has generally been a positive contributor to performance. An overweight to global equities contributed as it was the top performing asset class, while an underweight to the underperforming fixed income asset class was also a contributor.

From a portfolio construction standpoint, off-benchmark allocations to global fixed income added value. It was, however, partially offset by allocations to global infrastructure which underperformed in this period.

NEI Global Total Return Bond Fund gave back earlier gains given its underweight in duration combined with an overweight in US dollars and overweight to corporate credits. The US dollar weakened and corporate spreads widened in this period. Outperformance from NEI Canadian Bond Fund and NEI Global High Yield Bond Fund was offset by underperformance from NEI US Dividend, NEI Global Dividend RS Fund, and NEI Clean Infrastructure Fund.

ESG Activities

The following environmental, social, and governance (ESG) activities are some of those undertaken during the period related to the Fund's ESG-related investment objectives and strategies. The Fund seeks to achieve its ESG-related investment objectives and strategies through selection of its underlying funds.

For NEI Global Total Return Bond Fund, NEI's Responsible Investing & ESG Services team (RI team) engaged four companies including Enbridge, Verizon Communications, and Vodafone Group, on topics such as net-zero commitments, biodiversity, and digital rights.

For NEI Canadian Bond Fund, the RI team engaged 11 companies including AltaGas, Bank of Nova Scotia, and Loblaw Cos, on topics such as deforestation, net-zero commitments, and supply chain risks.

For NEI Global Impact Bond Fund, the RI team engaged two companies, Credit Agricole and Whitbread group, on topics such as deforestation and animal welfare.

Recent Developments

There were plenty of reasons to expect a much weaker equity market given everything that happened in this 6-month period, but somehow the equity markets were able to look past bank failures, rate hikes, and slashed earnings estimates with a surprising level of optimism, betting on the strength of economic data and the Fed to start cutting rates as soon as mid-year 2023. The fixed income market, however, seems to be living on a different planet, speculating that the banking crisis will lead to tighter lending standards, raising the probability of recession, which in turn alleviates the need for higher rates. The treasury markets saw dramatic volatility. The treasury yield curve became deeply inverted in this period with 2yr yields exceeding 10yr yields by over 107bps in early March, before ending the period at a more moderate level at 55bps.

Strength in recent data stems primarily from the re-opening of China as well as the warmer than usual winter in Europe and North America. The sustainability of the resilience is debatable as the lagged and varied impact of monetary tightening over the past 12 months is yet to be felt in the economy, putting central bankers at a tough position amidst inflation rates that are still above the neutral rate. This is keeping us in a defensive positioning in the portfolios, waiting for better clarity on paths of rates and economic growth.

During this period, the portfolio's target allocation in equities has been moved from 20% to 25%, with a corresponding reduction in target allocation in fixed income from 80% to 75%. The blended benchmark for the portfolios has also been adjusted to align with the new target asset allocation of the portfolio.

Effective March 01, 2023, the blended benchmark was changed from 80% Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Index (C$ hedged), 14% MSCI World NR Index (C$) and 6% S&P/TSX Composite TR Index to a blended benchmark of 75% Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Index (C$ hedged), 18% MSCI ACWI NR Index (C$) and 7% S&P/TSX Composite TR Index.

Effective March 31, 2023, the investment strategies of NEI Conservative Yield Portfolio were changed to include exclusionary screens.

(1) All per unit figures presented in 2023 are referenced to net assets determined in accordance with IFRS and are derived from the Portfolio's semi-annual financial statements for the period ended March 31, 2023.

(2) Net assets and distributions are based on the actual number of units outstanding at the relevant time. The increase/decrease from operations is based on the weighted average number of units outstanding over the financial period.

(3) Distributions were paid in cash or reinvested in additional units of the Portfolio.

(4) Distributions (if any) that may have been made that included return of capital in excess of short term earnings were made to minimize disruption and provide stability to investors who have elected to take their distributions in the form of cash, and as disclosed in the Simplified Prospectus. These amounts are reviewed at each calendar year-end and management engages in discussions with the sub-advisor to determine the most applicable strategy on a go forward basis and will take any action(s) as needed for the long term stability of the Portfolio.

(1) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs, as well as withholding taxes) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(2) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other Portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.

(3) The portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Portfolio's sub-advisor manages its investment holdings. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Portfolio buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the period. The higher the portfolio turnover rate in a period, the greater the trading costs payable by the Portfolio in the period, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the period. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a Portfolio.

(4) At the close of business on October 29, 2018, the Meritas Strategic Income Fund was merged into the NEI Conservative Yield Portfolio. The portfolio turnover rates exclude the value of securities acquired and sold to realign the Portfolio's holdings.

Management Fees

The Manager is responsible for the management, supervision and administration of the Portfolio. The Manager receives from the Portfolio management fees, before HST, calculated daily on the net asset value of the Portfolio at an annual rate shown below. The Portfolio does not pay management fees for Series I and O units. Series I and O unitholders pay a negotiated fee directly to NEI Investments.

The management fee covers the cost of investment advisory fees, sales, marketing, and distribution expenses of the Portfolio. In addition, the Manager may pay a trailer fee to dealers out of this management fee. The trailer fee is a percentage of the average daily value of the units of the Portfolio held by the dealer’s clients. No trailer fees are paid in respect of any Series F and PF units of the Portfolio.

In addition to the fees and expenses directly payable by the Portfolio, certain fees and expenses may be payable by some underlying third party funds. The Portfolio indirectly bears its proportionate share of such fees and expenses. However, the Portfolio does not pay any management fees or similar expenses that, in the view of the Manager, a reasonable person would consider duplicate a fee payable by an underlying fund for the same service.

The following table shows the major services paid for out of management fees as a percentage of the management fee for all applicable series of the Portfolio:

	Management Fee (%) ⁽¹⁾	Investment Advisory and Other Fees (%)	Trailer Fee (%)
Series A	1.35	44.45	55.55
Series F	0.60	100.00	N/A
Series P	1.25	40.00	60.00
Series PF	0.55	100.00	N/A

(1) Effective June 28, 2022, the management fee rates were reduced from 1.45% to 1.35% for Series A, from 0.70% to 0.60% for Series F, and from 1.30% to 1.25% for Series P.

Past Performance

The performance information provided will not necessarily indicate how the Portfolio will perform in the future. The information shown assumes that distributions made by the Portfolio in the periods shown were reinvested in additional units of the relevant series of the Portfolio. In addition, the information does not take into account sales, redemption, distribution or other optional charges that would have reduced returns or performance.
